

TRIP OVERVIEW

Discover some of the most breathtaking landscapes in North America with this truly unique swimming holiday amongst the rivers, lakes and canyons of Arizona's stunning Salt River region. This incredibly beautiful trip features an adventurous itinerary where we'll swim alongside some of the state's most remarkable natural scenery and have the chance to see the area's local wildlife in their natural habitat.

Surrounded by the impressive cliffsides where the Salt River flows through the Tonto National Forest, this SwimTrek adventure is one of our more unusual trips. The river is chiselled between deep canyons, steep lakeside cliffs, and a meandering river course through Arizona's Sonoran Desert, creating a lake and river setting that will have you telling stories of 'swimming in the Wild West' for years to come. Over the course of the trip, we swim the length of entire canyons, with mountain peaks reaching high up above as we pass by.

It's not just the swimming that makes this a trip of a lifetime. Our itinerary see us explore the surroundings of Saguaro Lake, Canyon Lake and Apache Lake as our journey takes us through Arizona's Tonto National Forest. The panoramic views we'll have of the surrounding canyons are often described as some of the most impressive in the whole of the United States. We stay at the secluded Saguaro Lake Ranch, which is a comfortable, rustic base for the duration of the trip and has echoes of a bygone era of gold prospecting, cattle drives and gunfights. Every day we'll enjoy delicious home cooked meals, often in a cowboy style cookout under the stars.

WHO IS THIS TRIP FOR?

This trip is for swimmers who love the idea of swimming in beautiful freshwater in some of the most stunning landscapes in North America. Its remote nature makes it the perfect place to switch off and just focus on enjoying relaxing swims. Swimmers should have a basic understanding of open water swimming and be capable of completing the average daily swim distance of around 5km (split over a minimum of two swims) prior to the start of the trip.

LOCATION SUMMARIES

Saguaro Lake

Saguaro Lake was formed when the Stewart Mountain Dam was completed in 1930. The lake has high rimmed canyon walls which make the views from the water stunning. Bald eagles, ospreys, falcons and Harris's hawks are common visitors to its shores. It's eastern end is a mix of gorges and cliff faces.

Canyon Lake

Canyon Lake has the most winding path of all the lakes we'll visit; it twists and turns from its start at the base of Horse Mesa Dam to its finish at Mormon Flat Dam. Many species of migratory songbirds nest in the area, such as black-chinned and Costa's hummingbirds and vermilion and ash-throated flycatchers.

Apache Lake

The Apache Lake separates the Four Peaks Wilderness Area from the Superstition Wilderness and is located near the Apache Trail near Tortilla Flat in Maricopa County. It is the largest and one of the most stunning lakes that we visit. And you won't be the only ones near the water's edge; bighorn sheep, deer, coyotes, and other wildlife may be seen on the hillsides or surrounding water edges.

Tonto National Forest

The Tonto National Forest spans almost 3 million acres of rugged and spectacularly beautiful countryside. Its landscape features Saguaro cactus-studded deserts and pine-forested mountains beneath the Mogollon Rim. The lakes are within the Superstition Wilderness Area of the park with high levels of federal land protection for nature conservation.

Saguaro Lake Ranch

Our base for the trip is ideally located on the banks of the Salt River, underneath the imposing Bulldog Cliffs which rise up above it. The ranch was created out of the work camp built in 1927 to facilitate the construction of the nearby Stewart Mountain Dam.

Start Time	16:00 on Day 1
Finish Point	Sky Harbor Airport , Phoenix, Arizona
Finish Time	18:00 on Day 6

Please note that the below daily itineraries are an example of the swims that may take place during the course of your trip, however, actual swim locations and distances will vary according to local weather and sea conditions. Your SwimTrek guides and local boat pilot will determine the most suitable swim locations each day and will communicate the plan with all guests as soon as possible.

Day 1

After your arrival at the Saguaro Lake Ranch, you will have time to check in to your accommodation before meeting in the ranch's living room at 16:00 for a welcome drink and safety briefing in which you'll have a chance to meet your fellow SwimTrekkers and SwimTrek guides.

Depending on the water release schedule from the Saguaro Lake Dam, we will either swim in the Salt River or head to Saguaro Lake for our acclimatisation swim. Following this, it's time for the first of our delicious camp cowboy cookout dinners at the ranch.

Day 2

We start the first full day of the trip swimming at Saguaro Lake. We jump aboard our escort boats and head to the far end of Saguaro Lake to Wallace Beach, which is a few hundred metres down from Mormon Flat Dam that divides Saguaro and Canyon Lakes. From Wallace Beach, we swim between narrow canyon walls until we reach Bagley Point, which is an ideal lunch spot.

After lunch, we swim in a horseshoe direction from Bagley Point towards Ship Rock, a natural rock formation in the middle of Saguaro Lake. On this swim, the landscape begins to open up and we get our first glimpses of Brown's Peak and the other summits of the Four Peaks Wilderness Area.

In the evening we have a technique session in the ranch's swimming pool, followed by an advice and video playback session with your swim guides, where we playback the recordings and provide feedback on your stroke.

Day 3

It's a full day today as we venture to Lake Apache to explore the most distant and longest lake in the Salt River system. Our drive takes in incredible mountain views as we cross the Tonto National Forest and Roosevelt Lake. This scenic drive along parts of the Apache Trail is like stepping back in time; you can almost see the prospectors searching for gold.

Our morning swim ventures into the narrow Alder Creek from where we strike out west towards Long Canyon. The views on this swim are some of the most visually stunning of the whole week as we swim through a landscape reminiscent of the Grand Canyon.

After time to rest and have lunch in Long Canyon, the afternoon sun lights up the Painted Cliffs rock formations and we'll swim towards the Horse Mesa Dam which separates Apache from Canyon Lake.

On the return journey, time permitting, there is an opportunity to stop off either at Jake's Diner or the saloon in Tortilla Flat, for a refreshment or two.

Day 4

We embrace our Wild West setting this morning as we drive to Canyon Lake. Cacti line our route and we'll pass by Goldfield Ghost Town, deserted mines and magnificent mountains. From our Canyon Lake launch point of Labarge Point, we can clearly see Mormon Flat Dam in the distance. We enter the lake at Fallacy Cove and swim north-eastwards on one of our longest swims of the trip. We take in Russ Cove and Bass Creek before exiting the water at The Point, where we have stunning views of the mountain peaks above.

In the afternoon, we undertake a shorter swim from The Point to Crucifix Gorge, which features a lake crossing, followed up by a swim down the gorge's entire length, which offers a nice contrast to the main lake.

Day 5

It's an early start today for our second day on Canyon Lake. Today's swims take us deep into the more remote eastern section of this meandering lake. The canyon looms large overhead and it is an impressive sight from the water. From Skull Cove, which lies next to Crucifix Gorge, we'll journey past Waterfall Lagoon, Blue Tank Cove and Saucito Point before arriving at Eagle Rock, where we'll enjoy today's lunch on the sandy beach beyond Eagle Bend. After lunch, we undertake the last leg of Canyon Lake and explore the beautiful tributary of Fish Creek. The Creek is like a labyrinth of side channels and is a great way to finish our time at Canyon Lake. In the evening, the ranch hosts another cowboy cookout, which is a fitting last dinner underneath the impressive canopy of Arizona stars.

Day 6

We head back up to Saguaro Lake and set off on this morning's semi circumnavigation of the Tonto Peninsula, of which Mt Pinter dominates the skyline. We start from Ship Rock and swim via Razorback Point and Campers Cove before finally landing at Peregrin Cove, located on the Butcher Jones Trail. If time allows, there is an opportunity to have a short walk along the track at the end of our swim.

In the afternoon, it's our final swim of the trip, as we complete the length of Saguaro Lake by swimming towards Saguaro Del Norte. It's an easy place to spot as sheer cliffs rise above the beach below, and it is a fitting finish to our trip at the foot of the mountains that have lined our swims throughout the week.

After completing our last swim, we have our final chance to take in southwestern scenery on our drive back to Phoenix, where we drop you at Sky Harbor Airport in order to catch an evening flight, rent a car or extend your stay in Arizona.
